Do we all need the same thing?

We know that all living things need things to survive. But, do they all need the same thing?

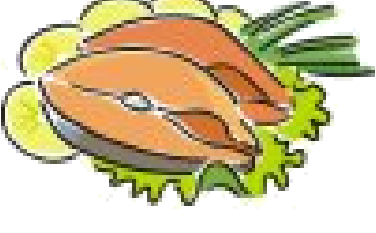

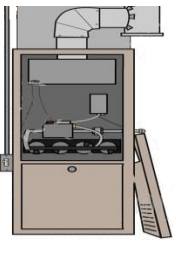

Draw lines from the plant, the animal, the rock, and the human, to the things they need to survive.

Why are there no lines going to the rock?

The rock is not alive.

Compare the needs of a human to the needs of a bear. Cut out the pictures and paste them in the proper spot on the chart.
