

Name: _____

Date: _____

Using Your Senses

Usually when we are told to observe something, we just look at it. In science, observations are done with more than just our eyes. In fact, we observe with five things, called our senses.

In class today you will use all of your senses to observe objects. As you observe write down the words that you have used to describe the objects.

We see things with our eyes.

_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____

We hear things with our ears.

_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____

We smell things with our nose.

<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>	<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>	<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>
-------------------------------	-------------------------------	-------------------------------

We taste things with our tongue.

<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>	<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>	<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>
-------------------------------	-------------------------------	-------------------------------

We feel things with our hands.

<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>	<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>	<hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>
-------------------------------	-------------------------------	-------------------------------